Crystal/Glass: Our “warm shop” consists of computer-controlled ovens in which we are able to heat crystal or glass to the stage where hand-cut pieces of glass actually become “fused” together. Through the use of molds crystal and glass can be “slumped” to make curved awards or shaped bowls.

Look inside Advance Award Line’s facility at a few of our production departments to understand why we stand apart in our manufacturing expertise and quality-finished recognition awards and corporate gifts.

This representation illustrates our ability to maintain total in-house control of manufacturing. Every detail of Advance Award Line’s recognition awards, donor walls and corporate gifts, standard or custom, is thoroughly attended to and with our years of experience, you can be confident in choosing our awards and gifts for your presentations.

Woodshop: Individually-selected, top-grade woods are used to produce wood plaques, frames, bases and custom-designed awards and gifts after which each part is hand-finished. Through the use of CAD/CAM (computer-aided design/computer-aided machining) systems, exact specifications are maintained.

Etching: Metals are chemically etched in our etching lines where attention to the detail and intricacy of artwork is foremost. Ever concerned about the environment, our etching processes utilize a closed loop chemical treatment system that exceeds governmental requirements.

CUSTOM RECOGNITION AWARDS

Since 1941 we have been combining our manufacturing processes, creative design and the finest materials to create original, meaningful recognition awards and corporate gifts. We work in many types of substrates, woods, metals, crystal, glass, and framing and through the design process, you can use one material or incorporate several to achieve the look you are envisioning for your custom awards.

The Advance design and manufacturing staff will work with you on your custom award designs or assist you in creating a custom award according to your parameters. You can be assured that the tradition of quality manufacturing, innovation and service that we have built over the years will be apparent as we take your custom ideas from concept to reality.

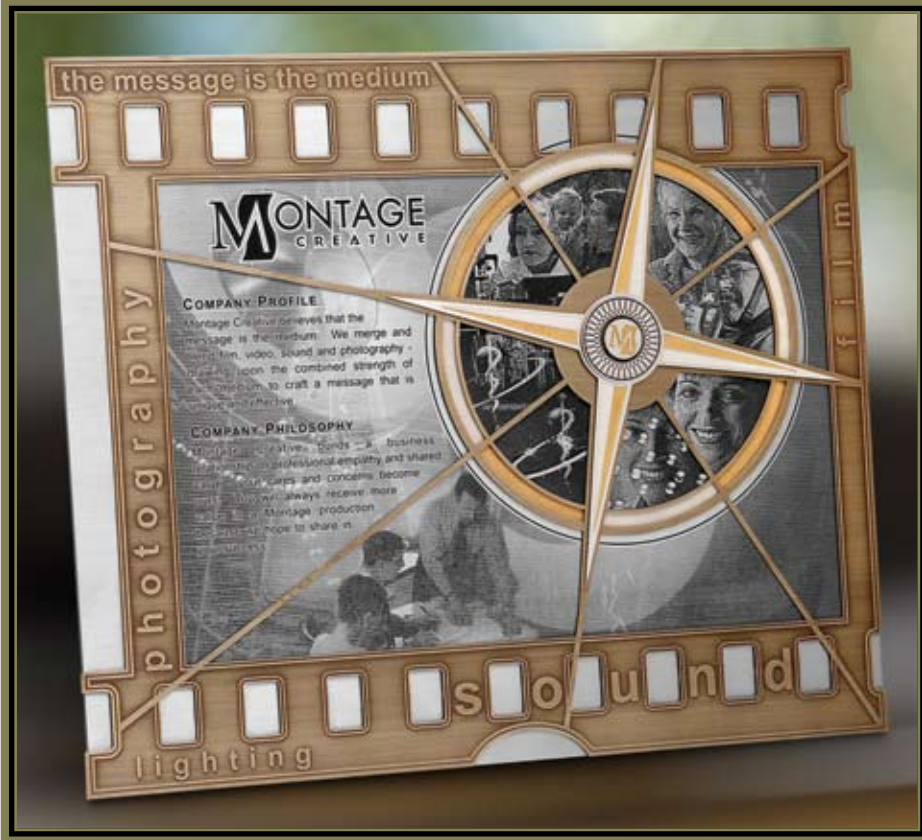

Sculptured Adcast™ Eagle Tower

Our decorative photographic imaging process, ReplicaFinish™, was applied to the etched metal plate on this award covering both the recessed and raised areas simultaneously. The raised portion of the plate was then sanded to allow the silver metal to show through while leaving the images in the recessed areas intact.

A standard frame was customized to hold a clear acrylic cover and also routed at the bottom to insert a magnetic receiving strip for the future addition of magnetized yeardate plates. Suede mats surrounded the etched and colorfilled logo plate in the center and the copy was silkscreened on the back of the acrylic.

CUSTOM RECOGNITION AWARDS

Various metals were used to achieve the look required for this architectural lobby plate. Consisting of four separate components, we used several methods of etching. The back plate was single etched to hold the dot pattern of the images, the plate depicting the “negative” was pierce etched to create the openings, and the compass points plate and medallions were shape etched.

Exceptional woodworking craftsmanship is the key to this unique custom award. The “house” was fabricated in sections – the back, roof, chimney and set of hinged doors with handles were all manufactured separately and then assembled. With the doors open the copy plate and logos could be viewed.

The Immortal Chaplains Award for Humanity is presented each year to those who have risked their lives to protect others. The award consists of a tiered Dymondwood™ base bearing the 6” diameter brass medallion and an etched copy plate describing the recipient’s achievement.

CUSTOM RECOGNITION AWARDS

The recessed area behind the raised copy on this award plate was double etched which resulted in an irregular pattern. ReplicaFinish™ was applied over this area to give the appearance and subtle feel of sand and pebbles. Replica-Finish™ also produced the photo-like image of the playground when applied to the single-etched, recessed portion of this plate.

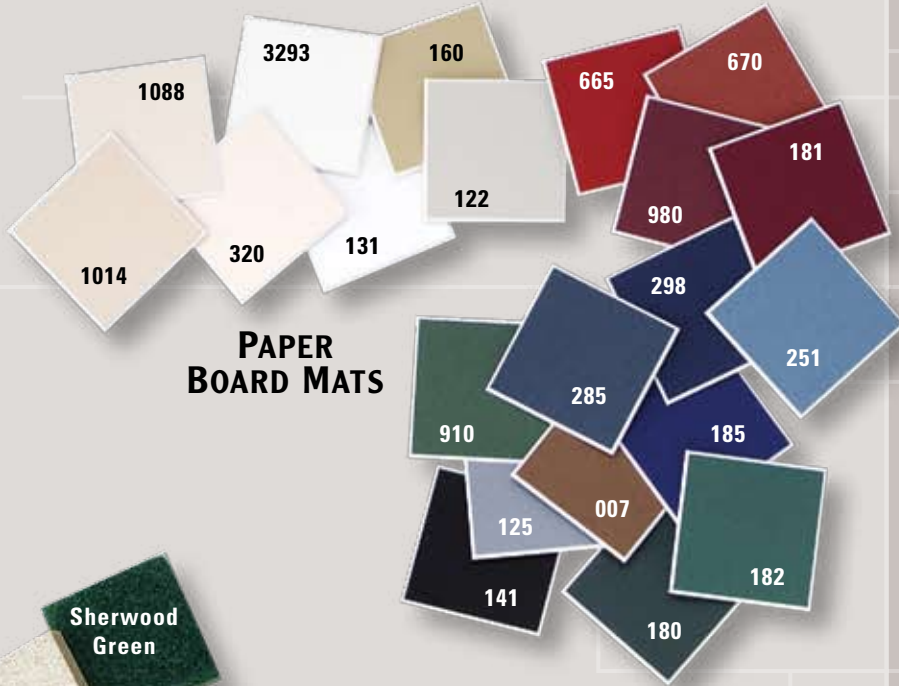

Sculptured Adcast™ Eagle Tower

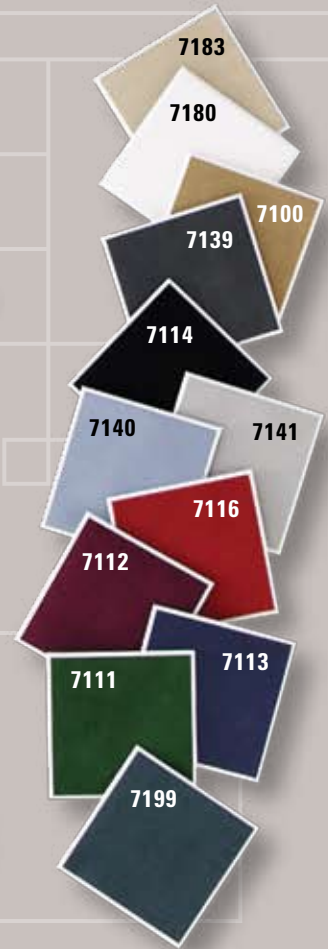

As two separate components were used for this custom award, a perfect fit was imperative when we manufactured each of them. The sculpted, art-carved glass eagle had to set on the green marble base with exactness, so precision was foremost when designing and producing this award.
