CAPTAINS WINE BOOK

With hand made bookbinding and traditional concealed screw post construction, the CAPTAINS WINE BOOK has a capacity of  $\frac{3}{8}$ " – this is 10 sheets of cover stock paper or 10 plastic protectors. The wine books are constructed so that your guest cannot see the screw posts when opening the book. Many fine restaurants will use this style as their complete menu cover because it could hold it all, from soup to nuts. Screw posts are packed separately with the covers for final assembly and hole drill placement is standard format, unless specified differently. For larger than  $\frac{3}{8}$ " capacity covers you want to contact the sales office. Catalog pricing is with heavy board and square corners.

DELUXE MENU COVERS

The traditional DELUXE MENU COVER. Menus were always printed on oversized paper and folded to resemble a book. The folded menu can be fastened into the cover with a tassel or barbed end stretch cord through eyelets – or a stretch cord with tassel or ball end can be wrapped around the spine. All of these methods allow quick changeability of the printed menu. If you wish a menu cover of traditional styling but have single menu pages, clear vinyl holders can be sewn into the spine – the stitching will not show on the exterior of the menu. Thus the deluxe menu cover can hold 4 or 8 single pages allowing menu changes to be done a page at a time on your laser printer. Catalog pricing is with heavy board and square corners.
